URBAN RENEWAL & SCHOOL LAND VOTED SPOT REZONING TURNED DOWN

After a one hour and fifty-six minute discussion the Town of Wilmington, in Town Meeting assembled, voted approval of the Selectmen's article to start an Urban Renewal study in the Town of Wilmington, and more specifically in Wilmington Square. The town also voted, in the same meeting, to transfer $14,200 from the Junior-Senior High School Building fund to purchase land from Anthony Signore, in North Wilmington, for a future school site, and to purchase a new dump truck for the Highway Department, at a cost of $6500. Turned down were two articles for spot rezoning, one near Wilmington Square and the other in South Wilmington.

The main discussion, about Urban Renewal and a Redevelopment Authority met heavy opposition from the very beginning, some from a determined group who obstructed in every way possible, but mainly from people who did not understand the question, and wanted thorough explanations. The explanations could not always be given.

The first opposition came from Gus Cuoco, President of the Wilmington Taxpayers Association, who moved that the voting be by Yes and No ballot. More than forty citizens voted with Mr. Cuoco, whose motion had been seconded by Harold McKelvey. This vote was to plague the last part of the discussion, when it was apparent that the people were ready to vote, and they wanted to dispense with the Yes and No Ballot. One person only, Bill Coulter of Garden Court, opposed the town at this time, and held solidly for a Yes and No Ballot. Under the ruling of the Town Counsel, a unanimous vote was necessary to revoke the earlier vote for the Yes and No Ballot. Twenty minutes was spent in casting the ballots. Final vote declared at 10:48 pm, 180 Yeas and 56 Nays. Danny Gillis of the Planning Board moved the controversial article, (Article 2) at 8:34 pm, immediately followed by Mr Cuoco's motion. For nearly two hours the discussion continued with every Selectman but Mr Black speaking, and many citizens asking questions. TM Courtney was the first to speak, explaining that this was a vote to establish a committee, which committee would apply for Federal Funds with which to make a study of Wilmington Square, and to make a Master Plan of Wilmington, and then bring back their recommendations to the Town Meeting. If then the town voted to go ahead, the Federal Government would pay two thirds and the Town one third of the cost of making the study of the Square. The idea is to make it possible and desirable for people to shop in Wilmington.

Harold McKelvey: 'Look carefully when we go along with Old Man Government--Don't be sold down the river--do it the good old Yankee Way--'.

Wm F (Agreeable) Smith, member of the Housing Authority asked to have reference 26QQ read and explained. The Moderator read it. Smith then asked 'Will this power be vested solely in the Redevelopment Authority?' Moderator: 'If they need money they have to come to the town.'

The Finance Committee had approved the article 'only if there was no expense to the town', Mr. Barrows explained, and further stated that the Finance Committee knew very little about 'this hush-hush project.'

Mr. Anthony Joanides (Donuts) asked about the rights of tenants of buildings. He was told that the law mentions only the owners, who would get first consideration in subsequent re sales after any landtaking and clearance.

The pay will be retroactive to September 1st.

PROGRESS ON ROUTE 28

While there have been no official announcements, unofficially the news is that bids will be called for, soon, for parts of Route 28 as it goes through Wilmington. The present dividing line, between sections will be Grove Street in East Wilmington, and a point south of Bob Evan's home, in North Wilmington.

At the present time it is planned to call for bids for a section between Route 128, at the Woburn-Reading line, and Grove Street in Wilmington sometime in December. The expected cost of this will be about $2,800,000.

The section of the route which goes through the home of Bob Evans will be put out for bid soon afterwards. The expected cost for this section, which will go to Dascomb Road in Andover, is about $3,500,000.

The last section in Wilmington to be put up for bid will be that section between Grove St and the Bob Evans property, going through most of North Wilmington. It will be one of the more expensive sections in the entire route, and is expected to cost about $4,100,000. Bids will be called for some time before July 1, 1957, according to the latest information.

Roger Buck, of High Street, who lives on this section wrote to the DPW some weeks ago, and asked if he could put in his winter supply of coal. He received a letter back from Volpe, assuring him that not only could he put in the coal, but that he would use it all up before the DPW would get around to disturbing him.

WILMINGTON TEACHERS

Elsewhere in this issue is a letter from Ten-Broeck Cornell, of Concord Street. Mr Cornell is a French teacher in Reading, and a gentleman of ability. We welcome the letter because Mr Cornell is concerned about subjects which gives us concern, and also because by his questions he makes it clear that our reporting
has not been adequate, at times. We will endeavour to answer his question.

Wilmington, in past years was notorious for the number of teachers who came here fresh out of college, stayed for a year or two, and then drifted off to greener pastures. We can say that with certainty, for years past. Mr Cornell seems to think that it is so today. He is perhaps a more experienced observer than we are. Another thought, on this same phase, is that we know of several of our more experienced teachers who are seeking employment elsewhere, teachers who we consider to be excellent, and would hate to lose.

We feel that the best teachers are none too good for the Wilmington Public Schools. We dislike having a constant turnover of personnel
so important as these people. Adequate salaries, of course, is a part of the answer to the procurement problem. We would rather see well paid teachers, in poor schools, than emporiums of marble, and a dissatisfied staff. We feel that Wilmington has perhaps spent too much money for school buildings, and not enough for teachers salaries. The money problem, of course, is always significant in this town.

The School Committee did not drop the Dependency Allowance by its own choice, for the Town meeting of last Monday. It was a case of being practical. They knew that the Finance Committee, under state law, has just to say "No"
(the so-called Home Rule Law), in Special Town
Meetings, and that is the end of the voting.
The Finance Committee was not in a mood to approve of any such vote, and it would have been useless for the School Committee, from its viewpoint, to attempt to have the question put on the floor. Only in an Annual Town Meeting can money be appropriated over the objections of the Finance Committee. This observation is not an attempt to make the Finance Committee into the Bete Noir, but merely a report of a factual position.

We do not know how we stand, on the Dependency Allowance. We are not too sure that we like it.
Neither, we believe, do certain members of the School Committee, but, because the Teachers Club has voted for it 100% the School Committee has voted to back the teachers club, in its efforts. It is important, from their standpoint, that they do this. The Teachers' Club is determined that the salary schedule voted by the School Committee (including the Dependency Allowance) be paid. The School Committee wants to and possibly, has the legal right to do so without a vote of the town. Whether or not they will do so, without the implied sanction of the voters is a question, but at the present time there is, we believe, an excess of $6000 in the Salaries Account, and we might possibly see this money used for the Dependency Allowance
before the year is up.

We agree with Mr Cornell that we can be proud of the advances made in teachers salaries. We would like to see the salaries at such a point that our teachers would be attracted from the more highly recognized colleges and universities. We would like to see, in our schools, a

TOWN NOTES

Weather

Those people who are still up at the bewitching hour of midnight may see, on the southeastern horizon, the brightest of all stars - Sirius -- harbinger of cold days to come.
On a clear cold night it is the most prominent object in the heavens, and a reminder to mortal man of the mysteries of the universe.

Our rain last week came in big doses. There was 1.18 inches of rain a week ago Tuesday, with .28 inches the day preceding. The heavy downpour cleaned off those leaves which were still clinging to their parent trees. Since then, with drier weather, the town has been filled with smoke from the tidy householders yards.
Other people just let the leaves lie.

Lady Cops

A feature of the Town Meeting Monday night was the presence of uniformed members of the Wilmington School Safety Patrol. There were two of these ladies at the Sadie D J Carter lecture, the Saturday before, too. Very trim looking, we think they added a touch of grace and comfort.

The Lady Cops, as we call them, were originally chosen just for traffic duty, near school crossings. And, incidentally, woe betide the motorist who ignores the signals of the ladies. All she has to do is to take down their number, and the judge will give immediate orders for the hanging party.

THE LIBRARY AND UNCLE SAM

The people of Wilmington are fortunate or unfortunate, according to the point of view, to be included among the untold millions who will be affected by the Federal Library Services Act which was signed by President Eisenhower on June 19, 1956.

"State Plans for Using Federal Funds" was the topic of a talk given at the Fall Meeting of the Merrimac Valley Library Association in Rowley, Oct 25, by Stacy B Southworth, Chairman of the Massachusetts Board of Library Commissioners. The State plans to open a regional library service center in rented quarters in or near Lawrence, using the $40,000 allocated for this year by the Act. Rural communities (defined in the Act as ones of under 10,000 according to the 1950 census) in this area will then have library extension service comparable to that already provided by the state in the Greenfield, Pittsfield, and Fall River areas.

The Act specifically forbids use of Federal funds for land or buildings, but does not exclude bookmobiles. Grants to states are made according to a complicated formula--a basic $40,000 which is all any state gets this year, plus a portion figured according to the relative rural population, plus another portion figured according to the relative wealth per capita.

To those who have worked for many years to obtain Federal help, this act means that untold millions in rural areas where there is now inadequate or no library service will be benefited. To those who see Federal control and bigger taxes always accompanying Federal handouts, it will mean that libraries have now joined the throng of governmental divisions which are not satisfied with purely local handling of affairs.

We predict that to all the people of Wilmington, the purely local effect of this Act will be to bring about an awareness of the promotion of the Library out of the stepchild class.

THE LIBRARY SURVEY

An example of the kind of service which can be performed by the state for a town is the survey of the library. At the request of the local Board of Trustees, the Division of Library Extension made a survey of the facilities of our local library. Copies of the report, made by Miss Alice M. Cahill, Supervisor of Field Services, are now available at the Library.

We suggest this as a bit of reading more interesting than you might think.

Now, it seems, the ladies are branching out in their duties -- which can be construed easily, from their Oath of Office, which is the same as for the Gendarmes. It seems that there was some affair in the High School auditorium, a few weeks ago, and the little darling girls got loose. Every time a male policeman tried to approach to quell the young riot the girls retreated to the ladies room. So -- from now on there will always be at least one Lady Cop present, on public occasions in the auditorium.

Hezekiah Reid

Those people who attended the S D J Carter Lecture last Saturday heard, without doubt, a great artist, Hezekiah Reid. An ex Marine, who majored in Music at the University of California in Los Angeles after his discharge from the service in 1946, and has studied with several eminent artists since then. He will make his debut at Town Hall, in New York City, this autumn.

We had the pleasure of a few

ant. He is overflowing with vitality and vigor.

His too, is a polygot background. Essentially American, he had one grandparent who was born in Turkey, and another who was born in Germany. We shall watch his career with interest.

Board of Health

We were amused, this past week to receive a communication from the Board of Health telling of action that was being taken as the result of a complaint signed by 125 people in East Wilmington, about odors coming from a Woburn plant.

Just in case the Board does not know, the Town of Reading has already taken action, and the plant is going to spend some thousands of dollars to remedy the matter. It was all in the Reading Chronicle, last week.

Buck Fever

Our own Arthur Allgrove, a member of the Town Crier, has been having Buck Fever for the past several weeks - meaning that he was anxiously awaiting the opening of the deer hunting season in Maine.

A week ago yesterday, right after the close of work, he took off, with our own version of 'buck fever'.

But, he came back with the goods - and now he can again concentrate on working.

Dollar Fever

Another hunting enthusiast is Ken Marshall, of the Wilmington Fire Department. As long ago as last summer he began to plan a trip to New Hampshire, with a party of ten in the group. He made reservations, and all was ready for a grand hunt.

Today is the first day of the hunt - but Ken is doing it all alone. For some reason or other the others were not able to go along.

We imagine it must be a very pleasant sensation, sleeping in quarters rented (and paid for) for ten people.

Pleasant, that is as long as he doesn't think of how much it is costing him.

Never Again

The TM's comment on the Town Meeting is that he will never again bring up a new proposal without first going out to the various civic organizations and talking it over first.

Before the new Zoning Law was voted there were such discussions in maybe one dozen different organizations, and many of the voters knew almost more about the proposal than did the TM.

This time, because the final decision had been made only a few days previously, there were no such discussions. The subject was dropped 'cold' into the laps of the people at the Town Meeting, and a very confused situation resulted.

Not only were the people confused, but, confesses the Town Manager, it was hard to tell just what they were confused over, because it was so complicated. -- Never again will I attempt to bring such a complex subject into a town meeting.

ing 'cold' is the way he is thinking as of this moment.

Music to Charm the Savage Beast

A feature of every Rotary Club is a 'song leader' who leads his fellow members in community singing, every meeting. Woburn Rotary, for instance, has Atty Ken Johnson, who is noted throughout the Rotary Clubs of Middlesex County for the manner in which he leads, pleads, exhorts and praises, to get the most volume out of the singing members. He hasn't jumped over any tables yet, in his leading, but we wouldn't be surprised to see that happen.

her home at 314 Salem St. will start Friday morning, Nov 2. The 24 hour course of morning classes is designed to help the leaders do a better job by acquainting them with the techniques and skills of scouting and where to get information and assistance when they need it. Included will be arts and crafts, songs, games, activities, and one session devoted to outdoor skills.

TOWN OF WILMINGTON

PLANNING BOARD NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

Notice is hereby given that the Wilmington Planning Board will hold a public hearing in the town hall at 8:00 pm Tuesday Nov. 13, 1956 relative to a plan of land located off Woburn Street, and known as Keenan Drive, which is known as Ox Pasture Subdivision Park IV and was approved May 22, 1950.

W. K. Irwin, Secretary.
Wilmington Planning Board

BOARD OF APPEALS PUBLIC HEARING

A public hearing will be held in the Town Hall on Thursday Nov. 8, 1956 on the request of Charles M. Vokey, for a variance in a lot size on a lot at the corner of Westdale Ave. and West Street.

Walter L. Hale Jr., Secy.
Board of Appeals

one of the two professional consultants employed by the Planning Board told the town that 'there will be no land takings until after the town has voted approval of the plan to be developed' and 'the Redevelopment Authority will merely be the executing agent, to carry out the vote of the Town, and only after the Town has approved the plans'.

Questions on Master Plan and on Detailed Plan for the Project were answered by Mr Braun and TM Courtney. The first, required by the Federal Government, before it can approve the second, is already well along toward completion--new Zoning Law, and Subdivision Control. The TM explained, 'The detailed plan for the project--should cost $10 to $15 thousand and will be a direct grant from the Fed. Govt, repayable only if the town votes to adopt the proposed Master Plan (toward which the $2100 voted last spring, and matched by Federal $2100 is going), after which it becomes repayable, and only then.

'Redevelopment' is the term used originally by Congress. The later 'Urban Renewal', which is used also by Mass, is synonymous. Bernard McMahon was told by Bob Evans of the Planning Board and by Mr. Braun. The law pertains only to land already occupied by buildings. Leroy Bedell was told in answer to his question as to why the Town couldn't by-pass the center and develop land on the westerly side of the tracks.

Questions were asked about the need for creating another authority to do the work which could be done legally by the Housing Authority, and whether this was an attempt to give the power instead to a group, four of whom would be appointed by the Board of Selectmen, for the interim period to next March. Other questions were asked about 'why the taxpayers weren't told.'

Atty Timothy Kane spoke in favor of the article, in an assured manner, citing Somerville experience.

'By doing this we do nothing more than authorize the appointment of five men to study the question?' asked another citizen. Selectman De Felice: 'That's it--exactly!'

The debate continued for another twenty minutes, but the proponents had already won. At 10:48 pm the Moderator declared the motion carried.

Other Business

Article 1, to rezone land opposite Gildarts, lost. William Irwin, for the Planning Board, stated that additional parking areas, which proponent Warren Smith of Thurston Ave., said would be needed for a proposed restaurant, could be had under the present Zoning Law.

Article 3. The Town voted in short order that a need did exist for Urban Renewal. A motion by former Selectman Fred Melzar to have the school site article, No. 5, taken up before No. 3 was defeated.

Article 4, to provide funds for planning a new police station was not approved by the Finance Committee. 'Let's pay our bills first', said Mr. Barrows, the Chairman. Under the law the non-approval precluded the town from voting.

Article 5 saw a transfer of $14,200 to purchase 12.2 acres of land for a future school site, under an option that would expire on Nov 3. It was voted unanimously.

Article 6. Just as quickly the town voted to transfer $6500 from the Road Machinery Fund to purchase a new dump truck for the Highway Dept.

Article 7. The last article, for rezoning land in South Wilmington was lost. The Planning Board had had to disapprove the Article, because no proponent had appeared at the advertised public hearing and two opponents had appeared, and under the law they could not vote for an article that had had only opposition.

There were 298 voters present at the meeting.

The funniest episode, in the Town Meeting was the development that the Planning Board had to report adversely on one of the articles for rezoning, because the proponent had not attended their public hearing, and there was no one to speak in favor of it. We are sorry for the individual, but he had no one but himself to blame for the hearing was advertised.

The hearing that we are wondering about, however, is the one referred to by the Chairman of the Finance Committee, a hearing concerning Article 2 of the Town Warrant. The Chairman reported that "no one came to the hearing".

Was this a public hearing, or a private one? We try to keep our finger on the town pulse, and if there had been a public hearing we think we should have heard of it. Perhaps it was not public, but intended only for Selectmen and other officials, in which case the question can be asked "Where were they?"

What is the answer?

Captain Larz Neilson
Town Crier
North Wilmington, Mass.

Dear Larz:

I have been following with great interest your frequent news items and editorials on teachers' salaries in the Town Crier. As a teacher in a neighboring town and a taxpayer and resident of Wilmington, I am perhaps more than usually concerned to see what Wilmington is doing for its teachers.

Last spring when you first reported the new (now current) salary schedule, it was such an improvement over the old, and even so much better than most of the neighboring towns ($300 higher than the respected town that employs me) that I felt that Wilmington and its School Committee were to be highly congratulated for taking a decisive step in the direction of attracting and keeping a high calibre teaching staff.

However, at the time it seemed to me that while a good step had been taken which put Wilmington in a fairly good competitive position with its neighbors, more - much more - would be required before the town could take and hold a lead in acquiring and maintaining a superior teaching staff. Anything less than a superior group of teachers would be shortchanging our children. Recent reports have only served to deepen my concern.

In checking reports of the new teachers hired this year there have been two items which stick out in my mind. First the large total number of new teachers suggests that entirely too many teachers left the system last June, the majority presumably to seek higher paying jobs elsewhere, and in spite of the assurance of a sizeable increase in salary this year. Second, I noticed that at least half of the new teachers are coming to Wilmington straight out of college for their first teaching jobs. As everyone knows, a beginner in any job is not as efficient and productive as an experienced person. I have yet to meet a teacher who will not agree that his first year was a training period and that the quality of his teaching improved vastly in subsequent years. This would be no problem if we could be sure that we learned his job, the teacher of one or two years experience would stay to give back to Wilmington the value of that training. But, again looking back to last June, have we any assurance that that be the case in the future?

Finally, I would like to say a word about the famous (or infamous) Dependency Allowance which I see the School Committee has seen fit to drop from the Town Warrant. Does that mean that the School Committee is washing its hands of a controversial problem? How does the Wilmington Teachers Club feel about its being dropped? Is the School Committee considering an alternate plan of a general raise in salaries to attract more good teachers of both sexes, and not just men as the Allowance was designed to do?

So as not to close on a critical note, I reiterate that Wilmington can well be proud of the advances made in teachers' salaries in the last year. But I must insist that a good beginning will not be enough a year from now. Nor is it even an adequate answer now. Anything less than the best possible teaching for our children is unthinkable. What next, School Committee?

Oct. 22, 1956

To the Town Crier:

I am one of the many tax payers of the town who feel grateful to your paper for telling us that the tax bills were in the mail. We had been anxiously waiting to see how far the needle had been driven, and we didn't get much time to get the needed money to pay the hungry goblins, who had driven the poor people to the wall. In a nice little table of taxes in 16 other towns, Wilmington topped the list with only a $2 increase since 1950. There was no mention of doubling the valuation of everyone and making many try to sell their homes that they had worked so hard to have for their aging years.

Many of us have been told, 'if you don't like the way you are treated why don't you move out?' I am a resident of this for twentyseven years and of Massachusetts since 1898. I can go anywhere I want to. - I haven't been run out of any place, but you good people of Wilmington who have been living in Wilmington all your life must feel the tax burden as well as the poor people trying to pay for a home.

You had better wake up within the next year or two, or you won't have any wall, or even a town. If good honest people cannot run the town without the aid of outsiders, then you cannot accept an office job. Many mistakes are made at the town hall, and I for one have been made the goat. I sold my home, a few years ago, after I retired from work. I kept a building lot with a small garage on Washington Street. The house which I sold was on Harvard Avenue, and for three years the land was assessed to me and the garage to the person who bought the house. I had to make three trips to the town hall to try to correct the mistake. The guillotine has been hanging over my head ever since.

I sold that garage and land over a year ago, but its still on my tax bill. I don't intend to try to correct this one.

On another occasion one of my sons sold his car in 1953 and in 1954 he received an excise tax. I returned the tax bill, telling them it was a mistake, and that my son, who was living with me had no car in 1954. The bill was returned asking me to please be informed that my son did have a car in 1954, and that it was insured through the Travellers Insurance Company. My son told me to keep the bill, and not return it again. Later a bill came from the deputy tax collector with a bill for $12.52. He was holding a warrant for my son's arrest. I didn't let my son see that letter. He would have gone to see the deputy and let himself be arrested, then we would have had a big joke on some of the smart people who make so many mistakes. My son has never done any business with the Travellers Insurance Company.

Respectfully yours,
Catherine Duggan.

Dear Parents:

Let's talk about a boy; your boy. He is a typical American boy, don't you agree? He is full of life, he has ambitions, ideas and questions. Some of them are easily answered, some are not so easy, but he wants answers to all of them. Some of these questions must be answered by you, his parent; some I try to answer for him. Who am I? I am his Scoutmaster. Once a week on evenings he and his friends come to our troop meeting to find out more about the great game of Scouting. Scouting is no mystery, it is simply taking this boy of yours and helping him to develop ambitions that he has already; reminding him to be true to God and his country and trustworthy to his fellowmen.

Sometimes, unfortunately, I fail. Why? Part of it is my fault, I admit. Sometimes I fail because I don't devote the time I should to him; some times it is because the boy himself isn't ready or doesn't really want Scouting. Sometimes the fault isn't with the boy or with myself, but with you, the parent. Oh yes, I know you take care of him and love him; you devote some of your time to him; but, and this is the big question: 'When he goes to Scout meetings do you also go?' No, I don't mean all the time, but do you drop in once in a while to see if he is doing Scouting? Do you help him if there is a test he wants to pass; and do you come down to see if the Scoutmaster needs some help? Let me assure you I do! I need your help badly. That, my friend, is the reason for this letter. You say you don't know anything about Scouting. Well, how do you know if you don't find out? Pick up your boy's Scout handbook; look at it; read it and you might find a pleasant surprise. You might even become interested if you do come to our meetings.

I need, and must have, Troop Committeemen if I am to run this troop. One of the rules of the National Council says that I must. They have to sign the troop charter before the troop can register. Some of them must attend Troop Board of Reviews so that the boys, your boy, may pass his tests. So, if for no other reason, let's not be selfish about this thing; let's keep your boy in Scouting. Find out what you can do and then do it.

One final point. I receive no money for my work; neither does anyone else connected with scouting in Wilmington, but the rewards are much greater in the spirit, the fellowship and the relations with his fellowmen that your boy can and will, with your help, obtain from scouting.

Sincerely yours,
A Scoutmaster
of Wilmington

SEACON HILL COMMENTARY Rep. Charles E. Wilkinson

One of the last Bills the Legislature worked on before prorogation was the $200 millions Road Bond Issue. Even at the very last there was a spirited debate on and strong opposition to the passage of the Bill by a couple of diehards who for some reason were strongly opposed to the Bill. It has now become Chapter 718 of the Acts of 1956. Two sections of the Bill are of interest. One section was the result of an amendment by the writer, Rep. Charles E. Wilkinson, which prevents the State from ordering a person out of his home until four months after the 'taking' by the State. The original amendment was for six months, but the Senate objected to the amendment and threw it out. A conference committee (composed of three members from each branch) through the efforts of Rep. Glaser (D) of Malden, compromised on a four month basis. Another section was the result of an amendment by Rep. Zollo (R) of Danvers, setting aside $15 million of the Bond Issue to be distributed (in the form of re-imbursements) to the various communities, under certain conditions. The schedule shows that Wilmington will be entitled to a total re-imbursement of $14,878.65. General instructions will be issued shortly but the general setup will be to submit the plan for construction of highway, parking lots excepted, to the Department of Public Works for their approval, then to the Board of Aldermen. Upon completion of the work, the State will re-imburse the City.

It has been reported, both verbally and in print, by one member of the House that the Port Authority is having difficulty selling their bonds and that the sale of bonds is affecting the credit of the State. This is not so, as the writer has checked with the proper authorities. The Port Authority has not yet completed the transfer of the property which will compose the Port Authority and until this is done the Port Authority could not sell bonds; furthermore, I am told on good authority that the sale of bonds by the Port Authority does in no way affect the credit of the State.

Not Too Much Resemblance

Walter Geswell, former resident of Wilmington, then of Pittsburgh, Pa., and now of North Reading, has a superficial resemblance to our former Town Manager, in that Walter too, has a shock of white hair and wears horn-rimmed glasses. And that resemblance is worth a couple of tales.

On one occasion an unknown man came up to Walter and was going to 'knock out his teeth'. Only the intervention of John Imbimbo prevented a brawl. The man apologized, when he learned that Walter's name was really Walter.

On another occasion somebody just slipped a box of cigars under Walter's arm. That's all.

John Collins, Wilmington Superintendent of Schools, is the song leader of the Wilmington club, except that John calls it 'choir director'. He isn't the athletic type, like Ken. But he has been developing his own distinctive type of music, for the Wilmington club.

John gets the members of the club involved in discussions. While the discussions are going on, the pianist, Roger Hayden, of the Hayden Mica Company, plays appropriate background music. Roger is quite accomplished and the louder the arguments are the louder Roger plays.

Recently John got young Fred Cain to discuss some point or other. Fred of course, sells Chrysler cars. So Roger played 'in my merry Oldsmobile', and the louder Fred shouted, the louder was the music.

Doc Foster, of the Charles River Labs felt that he had to reply to Fred. Doc raises laboratory rats. The music was 'Three Blind Mice' during his attempted discourse.

Then John made his mistake. He himself attempted to speak on the subject for a few moments. No one heard him, because Roger was really pounding out 'School Days, School Days'.

Studies

If having our Firemen on Civil Service didn't do anything else it did make them study. For the past three weeks practically every member of the Wilmington Fire Department has been studying and studying for the exams, which they took last Saturday.

Some of them confess that they learned something, too.

Town Engineer

Our new Town Engineer, George Maynard is now a resident of Wilmington. He moved into his new home on Oakdale Road two days ago. Today is his first day on the new job.

WILMINGTON LOSES TO NORTH ANDOVER, 29-0

The Wilmington High football team cannot be blamed for losing last week's game to North Andover, for they were again faced with the all but impossible task of trying to pound their way through opponents that weighed from 25 to 30 pounds more than they did. Coach Bellissimo stated that North Andover was perhaps the biggest team that Wilmington has faced all year.

The first touchdown came in the first quarter when North Andover recovered a fumble on the Wilmington 20 yard line and went on to score. From then on, North Andover scored steadily, using their overabundance of weight to their best advantage. It was in the closing seconds of the game that Wilmington came closest to scoring, working their way down to the one yard line before being stopped by the clock.

Next Saturday the team finishes its season with the traditional Tewksbury game, to be played for the first time on the new football field.

Case No. 23462 Misc.

To all whom it may concern, and to John J. Wayshnor, Mrs. John J. Wayshnor, James McClelland, Mrs. James McClelland, residences unknown, or their heirs, devisees or legal representatives;

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court by James A. Hailey and Phyllis A. Hailey of Reading, in the County of Middlesex and said Commonwealth to establish their title under a low value deed, under the provisions of G.L. (Ter. Ed.) Chapter 60, Section 80-B, running to Ernest C. MacDougall, by instrument dated Nov. 3, 1941, and recorded in the Middlesex North District Registry of Deeds, in Book 970, Page 537; that the petitioners now hold title under deed from John J. & Helen A. Quigg dated October 2, 1956 and duly recorded with said Registry of Deeds, (as Document No. 238 of October 1956) and to require you to show cause why you should not bring action to try any claim or claims which you may have adverse to the petitioners' title arising out of the tax proceedings under which the petitioners' title is based:

Said petition covers two parcels of land in Town of Wilmington, in the said County of Middlesex, bounded and described as follows: Pcl. No. 1: About 10,000 Sq. Ft. of land on the northwesterly side of Beacon St., being Lots 154-157 inclusive as shown on plan of Wilmington Square Park recorded in Middlesex North District Deeds, Plan Book 28, Plan 85. Pcl. No. 2: About 5,000 Sq. Ft. of land on the northeasterly side of Beacon St., being Lots 158 and 159 as shown on Plan of Wilmington Square Park recorded with Middlesex North District Deeds, Plan Book 28, Plan 25.
